

Anti Bribery Policy

Mantracourt is committed to doing business honestly, fairly, and with integrity. We have a zero-tolerance approach to bribery and corruption and comply with all relevant laws, including the UK Bribery Act 2010.

In simple terms, we do not offer or accept bribes. We do not make unofficial payments to speed up processes, and we make all business decisions openly and fairly. We also keep clear and accurate records to ensure transparency in everything we do.

Bribery means giving or receiving something of value—such as money, gifts, or favours—in order to gain an unfair advantage. This is not acceptable in any part of our business.

We recognise that reasonable hospitality can be part of normal business relationships. However, it must always be appropriate, not excessive, and must never influence decisions. Cash or cash equivalents are not permitted.

We expect the same high standards from the companies and individuals we work with, including suppliers, distributors, and partners.

If anyone has concerns about bribery or unethical behaviour, we encourage them to speak up. All concerns will be taken seriously and handled appropriately.

Failure to follow this policy may result in action being taken, including ending business relationships or legal action where necessary.
